WILL BE FIGHT IN THE FIRST

Two Candidates Are Named For School Board.

INDEPENDENTS FAVOR EYER

OPPOSITION PLACES IN NOMI-NATION PROF. CUMMINGS.

TWO candidates for member of the school board were placed in nomevening. They were Daniel Eyer and Professor Byron Cummings. Mr. Eyer was nominated at the primary at the city and county building, called by independents opposed to church and party political niterference in school elections. Professor Cummings was chosen by the opposite faction, constituting the non-partisan" crowd, which attempted to hold a primary in the Exposition building last Tuesday evening, but which adjourned until last evening at the same place.

In the independent convention there was a pretty fight, although entirely good-natured, between Mr. Eyer and J. J. Corum, the former winning by a vote of 152 to 110, with one vote for Byron Cummings. On motion of Mr. Corum, the nomination was made winning. the nomination was made unanimous.

A|| present had previously pledged themselves to work for the nominee.

The independent primary, held in response to the call in yesterday's papers, assembled in the room regularly occupied by the lower house of the Only an Independent Wanted. Mr. Wilson, in taking the chair, made a brief speech, in which he declared that nobody but an independent would satisfy the precinct for member of the school board.

John Montgomery and J. R. Letcher were elected secretaries. It was de-clared that Mr. Montgomery should be financial and Mr. Letcher recording secretary, which statement was greeted with laughter and applause.

E. B. Critchlow then read the resolutions calling the primary, as published in yesterday's Herald, explaining that this was a movement to place in nomination a man who represented the best citizenship of the precinct and who was not put forward by any church or political party. political party.

Mr. Eyer was called upon for a speech. He responded by saying briefly he was glad there had been no feeling in the contest, and that if elected he would do his whole duty to the best of his knowledge and ability.

On motion of W. H. Clark, the chairman was authorized to appoint

CUMMINGS IS NAMED.

His Convention Strongly Denounces Independent Movement.

The Byron Cummings convention met at the Exposition building last night and through the gloom of flickering are lights nominated the university professor by acclamation and with show of earnest enthusiasm. The meet-ing was largely attended and got down business without any delay. the name of Cummings was mentioned and he was the nominee within five minutes after the meeting was called

An hour was consumed, however, in nouncing the "independent citizens," denouncing the "independent citizens," who were in session at the same hour in the city and county building. Professor J. H. Paul accused them of having violated all faith and pledges by calling a separate convention from that in which they participated several pickle ago. Mr. Paul, as chairman of the former to order and requested the secretary, C. S. Martin, to read a declaration issued by the officers of the adjourned convention, scoring the "independent citizens" for their stand and justify-ing the candidacy of Professor Cummings. After this was over, the chair-man called for nominations for a can-didate for the school board from the First precipet

H. C. Williams was the first on his feet and in a few words he named Pro fessor Byron Cummings, eulogizing his candidate as a man whose whole life had been devoted to the study of school work and whose character was above reproach. Mr. Cummings' name was greeted with wild cheers. Martin Stockman seconded the nomination saying he had lived next door to Professor Cummings for many years and loved him better each succeeding day.

A motion from the body of the house

A motion from the body of the house that the rules be suspended and Mr. Cummings be declared the nominee of the convention carried with a whoop. There was not a dissenting vote.

There were calls then for a speech from the nominee, and he came forward. Professor Cummings said his platform would be a desire to do what is right. He denied emphatically that there was any friction between the University and the High school, and declared that he would be the last man to encourage or cause such a conto encourage or cause such a condition. The qualifications he would demand for teachers in the public schools, he said, were three: First of all, character; second, scholarship, and lastly, a love for the children with whom they cidal, for it would mean that mo is being thrown away on the state normal and like institutions. If the essential qualifications are not found in young men and women of Utah, then he submitted that the peope must look

At the conclusion of the address Chairman Paul made a few remarks to the congregation. He said the convention assembled had adjourned some nights previous out of fairness and courtesy to some eloquent gentlemen who urged that the room was not large enough and wanted the meeting put over to a time when a larger hall could be secured. Those same men, he said, violated their word of honor when they issued a call for an "independent" convention. This call was read by the speaker and he charged that its authors had not the courage to come out and say that any organization was interfering in the school campaign, but made a dark charge against them all. NYE WILL ACT.—City Attorney Nye said yesterday that there is no specific ordinance on the statutes compelling the street car companies to keep their cars clean. There is a general ordinance which, he thinks, can be made applicable in this instance, whereby the present dirty condition of the cars, as complained of by Health Commissioner King, can be prosecuted as a misdemeanor. He will take up the communication of Commissioner King early next week and look more thoroughly into the matter and give him the legal advice which he asked for.
